Disqualification Penalties

You have been disqualified from holding or obtaining a licence to drive a motor vehicle commencing on [date] and ending at midnight on [date].

You must not, under any circumstances, drive any form of motor vehicle on a road or street, or in any place that members of the public can access, during this time. Driving while disqualified is a serious offence. If you do this you will be guilty of an offence and may be imprisoned for up to 6 months for a first offence, and up to 2 years for a second offence. Imprisonment is the most common penalty for this offence.

Your existing licence has also been automatically cancelled by operation of legislation made by the Parliament of South Australia. If you wish to drive after the period of disqualification, you must reapply for your licence after the period of disqualification has ended.

Possibility of re-hearing

Section 76A of the Criminal Procedure Act 1921 provides that the Court may, on its own initiative or on the application of any party, set aside a conviction or order provided the Court is satisfied that:

- (a) the parties consent to have it set aside; or
- (b) the conviction or order was made in error; or
- (c) it is in the interest of justice to set aside the conviction or order.

If the Court sets aside a conviction, the Court will arrange to re-hear the proceedings.

If you wish to make an application for re-hearing, you must complete a Form 172A Interlocutory Application for Set Aside and Re-hearing within 14 days of receiving this Notice. This can be done through the CourtSA portal or by returning the completed Form to the Registry of the Court within this time period.

After you have filed your application, the Court will tell you of a date, time and location to hear your application. You or your solicitor must then go to the hearing to support your application.

Accompanying Documents

Accompanying this notice is the Information dated [date].
